FISCH CONVERTIBLE GLOBAL OPPORTUNISTIC FUND

CLASS BE (EUR) LU0542658082

Competent authority: COMMISSION DE SURVEILLANCE DU SECTEUR FINANCIER

A SUBFUND OF THE FISCH UMBRELLA FUND MANAGED BY FISCH FUND SERVICES AG

Objectives and investment policy

The subfund invests worldwide, mainly in convertible bonds and other convertible securities issued by government and corporate issuers. The investment objective of the subfund is capital growth of the investments. The subfund pursues an opportunistic strategy. Compared with a defensive strategy, an opportunistic strategy accepts a higher risk and aims for a higher return accordingly.

The subfund invests up to 10% of its assets in equities.

Up to 10% of its assets may be invested in instruments that are not traded on a regulated market.

The subfund may use derivatives for efficient portfolio management and for hedging purposes.

The portfolio manager may, at their discretion, make investments for the subfund within the predetermined investment guidelines.

Otherwise the standard investment guidelines according to UCITS V apply.

Additional relevant features of the fund

Units of the subfund may be redeemed on any bank business day in Luxembourg. The costs of purchasing and selling securities are borne by the subfund. They are incurred in addition to the fees listed under Charges and have a negative influence on the return.

As a matter of principle, rising interest rates have a negative influence on the performance of the subfund.

Income is not distributed, but used for re-investment.

Recommendation: This subfund may not be suitable for investors who want to withdraw their money from the subfund within a period of three years.

Risk and reward profile

The above indicator shows the subfund's risk and reward features and fluctuations in value in the past.

The risk indicator was established on the basis of historical data and is not an indication of the subfund's current or future performance.

Classification in a risk category is not guaranteed and may change over time.

The lowest category should not be equated with a risk-free investment.

The subfund may generate losses and offers no capital guarantee.

Reasons for placing the fund in this category

The subfund is subject to moderate to substantial price fluctuations owing to its opportunistic investment policy. The subfund takes average risks and therefore has a correspondingly higher income potential.

The following risks may be significant even if they do not have a direct impact on this categorisation

Credit risk: The subfund may invest in bonds. Their issuers may become insolvent.
Liquidity risk: The subfund's investments may achieve a lower liquidity level, which may have an impact on the subfund's liquidity.

Counterparty risk: If a contracting party becomes insolvent, it may not – or only partially – settle the subfund's outstanding claims.

Operational risks and custody risks: The subfund may be exposed to material losses owing to human error, system breakdowns, defective processes or external events. Custody of assets may involve a risk of loss, which can result from insolvency or breaches of the custodian's duty to use proper care.

Risks inherent in the use of derivatives: The subfund may use derivatives. The increased opportunities thereby attained involve increased risks of losses.

Charges

The fees are used to ensure the administration of the subfund, including sales and marketing. These charges reduce the investors' income.

One-off charges taken before or after you invest
Entry charges (in favour of marketing)	up to 3.00%
